state. With the first installation on site completed in early October, we have only just begun the wave of installations that needs to happen before the system commencement date," says Stefan Ranstrand, TOMRA President and CEO.

Sorting Solutions: Solid Growth in Order Intake

Revenues equaled 831 MNOK in the third quarter of 2017. This represented an increase of 8% in local currencies, adjusted for the Compac acquisition.

A somewhat lower gross contribution margin in the quarter ended at 43%, down from 45% same period last year. The decline is predominantly explained by negative currency impact and the inclusion of newly acquired company Compac.

Operating expenses increased to MNOK 278 from MNOK 198 in the same quarter last year. Adjusted for acquisitions and currency the operating expenses were up 3%. EBITA decreased from 86 MNOK in the third quarter of 2016 to 83 MNOK in the third quarter of2017, negatively influenced by a stronger USD vs EUR.

The overall momentum in TOMRA Sorting has been satisfactory in the third quarter of 2017, with all business streams reporting higher revenues and higher order intake compared to the same period last year.

With an all-time high order intake, the quarter consequently ended with an all-time high order backlog of 1,226 MNOK. Compac contributed MNOK 302 to the order backlog.

"The order intake continues to be strong in TOMRA Sorting and we are pleased with the overall good momentum. The record high order intake in the quarter leaves us with an all-time high backlog at the end of this quarter," Ranstrand comments on the quarterly development for Sorting Solutions.
